MODERATOR Secretary Clinton, you have talked about— and in the last debate and again today— that you would impose a no- fly zone to try to protect the people of Aleppo and to stop the killing there. President Obama has refused to do that because he fears its going to draw us closer or deeper into the conflict. And General Joseph Dunford, the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, says you impose a no- fly zone, chances are youre going to get into a war— his words— with Syria and Russia. So the question I have is, if you impose a no- fly zone— first of all, how do you respond to their concerns? Secondly, if you impose a no- fly zone and a Russian plane violates that, does President Clinton shoot that plane down?

HILLARY CLINTON Well, Chris, first of all, I think a no- fly zone could save lives and could hasten the end of the conflict. Im well aware of the really legitimate concerns that you have expressed from both the president and the general. This would not be done just on the first day. This would take a lot of negotiation. And it would also take making it clear to the Russians and the Syrians that our purpose here was to provide safe zones on the ground. Weve had millions of people leave Syria and those millions of people inside Syria who have been dislocated. So I think we could strike a deal and make it very clear to the Russians and the Syrians that this was something that we believe was in the best interests of the people on the ground in Syria, it would help us with our fight against ISIS. But I want to respond to what Donald said about refugees. Hes made these claims repeatedly. I am not going to let anyone into this country who is not vetted, who we do not have confidence in. But I am not going to slam the door on women and children. That picture of that little 4- year- old boy in Aleppo, with the blood coming down his face while he sat in an ambulance, is haunting. And so we are going to do very careful, thorough vetting. That does not solve our internal challenges with ISIS and our need to stop radicalization, to work with American Muslim communities who are on the front lines to identify and prevent attacks. In fact, the killer of the dozens of people at the nightclub in Orlando, the Pulse nightclub, was born in Queens, the same place Donald was born. So lets be clear about what the threat is and how we are best going to be able to meet it. And, yes, some of that threat emanates from over in Syria and Iraq, and weve got to keep fighting, and I will defeat ISIS, and some of it is we have to up our game and be much smarter here at home.

MODERATOR Folks, I want to get into our final segment.

DONALD TRUMP But I just have to...

MODERATOR Real quick.

DONALD TRUMP Its so ridiculous what she— she will defeat ISIS. We should have never let ISIS happen in the first place. And right now, theyre in 32 countries.

MODERATOR ok.

DONALD TRUMP We should have— wait one second. They had a cease- fire three weeks ago. A cease- fire, United States, Russia, and Syria. And during the cease- fire, Russia took over vast swatches of land, and then they said we dont want the cease- fire anymore. We are so outplayed on missiles, on cease- fires. They are outplayed. Now, she wasnt there. I assume she had nothing to do with it. But our country is so outplayed by Putin and Assad, and by the way— and by Iran. Nobody can believe how stupid our leadership is.
