BOB DOLE Well, my blood pressure is lower, my weight, my cholesterol, but I will not make health an issue in this campaign. So I think hes a bit taller than I am. But I think there are personal differences. I mean, Im not I dont like to get into personal matters. As far as Im concerned, this is a campaign about issues. Its about my vision for America and about his liberal vision for America. And not about personal things. You know, I think his liberal vision is a thing of the past. I know he wants to disown it. I wouldnt want to be a liberal either, Mr. President, but youre stuck with it because thats your record, thats your record in Arkansas; The biggest tax increase in history. The biggest crime increase in history, the biggest drug increase in history in Arkansas.

MODERATOR Mr. President.

BILL CLINTON Well, just for the record, when I was governor we had the lowest — second lowest tax burden of any state in the country, the highest job growth rate of any state when I ran for president and were widely recognized for a lot of other advances. But the important thing is, what are we going to do now. I think a targeted tax cut is better for our future, targeted to education and child rearing, with the rest of the education plan, hooking up all of our classrooms to the Internet by the year 2000. Making sure weve got an army of reading volunteers, trained people to teach with parents and teachers so that our eight year olds can learn to read. Investing in our environment. Cleaning up two- thirds of the worst toxic waste dumps. Those plans are better than this $550 billion tax scheme. Now, remember, folks, even Senator Doles campaign co- chair here, Senator DAmato, says hes got to cut Medicare to pay for this. Everybody whos looked at it, 500 economists, seven Nobel prize winners, say its bad for the economy. Its going to blow a hole in the deficit Its going to raise taxes on nine million people and require bigger cuts than the one I vetoed. Our plan is better, it will take us into the future with a growing economy and healthier families.
